STANDARD INFORMATION FORM FOR TRAVEL CONTRACTS

Appendix to the offer of the Travel Agency Matteo Travel Anna Prokop – Wilk

The combination of travel services offered to you constitutes a tourist event within the meaning of Directive (EU) 2015/2302.

Accordingly, you will be entitled to all EU rights applicable to tourist events. The Travel Agency Matteo Travel Anna Prokop - Wilk [hereinafter: the Agency] will be fully responsible for the proper execution of the entire tourist event. In addition, as required by law, the company has collateral to ensure that your payments are returned to you and, if transportation is part of the tourist party, to ensure your return in the event that the company becomes insolvent. Key rights under Directive (EU) 2015/2302

- Before concluding a travel contract, travelers will receive all necessary information about the travel event.
- At all times, at least one entrepreneur is responsible for the proper performance of all travel services covered by the contract.
- Travelers may transfer the tourist party to another person by giving a notice within a reasonable time, subject to possible additional costs.
- The price of a tourist event may be increased only if certain costs increase (for example, fuel costs), and this is expressly provided for in the contract; in no case may the price increase occur later than 20 days before the start of the tourist event. If the price increase exceeds 8% of the price of the tourist event, the traveler may terminate the contract. If the tour operator reserves the right to increase the price, the traveler has the right to reduce the price if the relevant costs have decreased.
- Travelers may terminate the contract without incurring any termination fee and receive a full refund of any payments if one of the essential elements of the travel event, other than the price, changes significantly.
- If the entrepreneur in charge of the tourist event cancels it before it begins, travelers are entitled to a refund of their payments and, if applicable, compensation.
- Under exceptional circumstances - for example, if there are serious security problems at the destination that may affect the travel event - travelers may, prior to the start of the travel event, terminate the contract without incurring any termination fee.
- In addition, travelers may terminate the contract at any time prior to the start of the travel event for an appropriate and justifiable fee.
- If, after the start of the tourist event, significant elements of it cannot be performed in accordance with the contract, suitable alternative services will have to be offered, at no additional cost. If services are not provided in accordance with the contract, significantly affecting the performance of the tourist event, and the tour operator fails to correct the problem, travelers may terminate the contract without a termination fee.
- Travelers are also entitled to a price reduction or compensation for damages in the event of non-performance or improper performance of travel services.
- The tour organizer must provide assistance to a traveler who finds himself in a difficult situation.
- If the tour organizer becomes insolvent, the payments will be refunded. If the tour organizer becomes insolvent after the start of the tour event, and if the tour event includes transportation, the return of travelers to the country is ensured. The Agency has purchased insolvency protection from Uniqa Towarzystwo Ubezpieczeń i Reasekuracji S.A. Travelers may contact this entity or, where appropriate, the competent authority if the Agency's insolvency results in the denial of services.

These rights of the traveler under Directive (EU) 2015/2302 are implemented by the Law on Tourist Events and Related Travel Services of December 18, 2017, which can be found at the following web address:
